WELCOME TO THE LOUVRE

The origin of the Louvre dates back to the 1200s. Once a royal residence, it became a museum in 1793 during the French Revolution and is now home to artworks dating from the 7th millennium BC to the 1850s. The collections are displayed on five levels, in three interconnecting wings named after three prominent figures from French history: Sully (1559–1641), chief minister of King Henri IV, Richelieu (1585–1642), chief minister of King Louis XIII, and Denon (1747–1825), first director of the Musée du Louvre.

The Carrousel and Tuileries Gardens

The Carrousel Garden is laid out around the triumphal arch of Napoleon I, completed in 1808. To the west is the Tuileries Garden, created in 1564 by Queen Catherine de' Medici, redesigned in 1564 by André Le Nôtre and rearranged several times since. This masterpiece of garden design features beautiful flower beds, pools and groves laid out on either side of the Grande Allée with its view towards the Champs-Élysées. The two gardens are open-air sculpture museums.

The Musée National Eugène Delacroix

Across the river Seine, just a 15-minute walk away from the Louvre, visit the apartment, studio and garden where the painter Eugène Delacroix spent the last years of his life. A haven of peace where you can discover the secrets of Delacroix's studio through paintings, prints, drawings and objects that belonged to him.

Admission free on presentation of the Louvre admission ticket on the day of your visit to the Louvre or on the next day the Musée Delacroix is open. Open daily (except Tuesdays) from 12 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., and from 10 a.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. Special evening openings until 8:30 p.m. depending on the museum's programming.
